Chobee Meeting Furthers
Water Control Project
Of The Government
For Glades

The lower Everglades are not the only section of so called Everglades region that is suffering from flood and highwater conditions, but the region south of Orlando down through the vast Kissimmee river section are in like condition.

The Florida Cattlemen's Association, spearheading the movement, for cattle and fruit men are the people who are suffering the greatest from the high waters, called a mass meeting at Okeechobee on Monday, which was largely attended, to map out a program for flood protection and water control, similar to the one the Government has proposed for the lake region.

This plan will be formulated as it is with the south Florida plans, to provide one big conservation project for entire Kissimmee valley drainage districts.

In years past the upper country people have attempted to get the interest of the Government in providing drainage and water conservation, and while numerous hearings have been held, their efforts have not been very successful.

Big Dyke At Lake Harbor Breaks Under Water Strain

The rocked road from Lake Harbor to the Juncos Farms, which parallels the Miami Canal and serves to give outlet to all farm lands adjoining each way, has been broken under the heavy load of a truck and will have to be repaired before it will be of any use.

The road has been flooded all summer by flood waters from the west running over the road into the Miami Canal. The water has raised in depth from 12 to 2 feet and has been impassable for months except for trucks and heavy motor equipment.

The Juncos Farms which are being farmed by C. A. Thomas, E. R. Mackey, Ben Bolton and C. A. Revels comprises 1800 acres of land protected by heavy dikes and large capacity pumps. The entire acreage is in condition for planting 600 acres now with growing crops. 200 acres are planted to Irish potatoes, 40 acres to escarole, 40 to celery and the remainder to snap beans.

It is estimated that the farm will produce 500 car loads of fresh vegetables this season. This road is the only land outlet to the farm and unless it can be repaired and put into passable condition by the time the crops are ready to harvest, the growers will be unable to market their produce according to Joe Friedheim, and this amount of food will be lost to the consumer.

The flood waters from the west have been eating at this road for many weeks and undermining the surface. Undermining the surface, the road is being washed out and the damage, the wash out of this farm road promises to be much worse than at present, he emphasized. The grade should be raised at least 3 feet to be safe for traffic and from future flood, he stated.

However those players, possibly with the exception of Smith, are likely to be seen in action as soon as they can recuperate from their injuries.

Rams Drop First Game To Vero

On Friday night the local high school Rams dropped their first game of the season to the Vero Beach Indians by less than a touchdown margin. The Indians were favored to win the game by a two touchdown margin as far as comparison of scores go.

There was no scoring in the first quarter but most of the period was played in Indian territory. The Rams managed to push to the visitors' thirty-yard line in the second quarter, but the Indians failing to reach their own forty.

The Indians first scoring opportunity, came a few plays after when Cunningham broke through the Rams' line and stopped hard and fumbled the ball. Vero pushed over on downs making the score from the two yard line. The score stood 7 to 0 with Belle Glade leading at the half.

The opening of the second quarter saw the Indians inspired and after completing a pass for 25 yards, from their thirty-five yard line with Calhoun breaking off right tackle three plays later for a gain of 29 yards, the Indians pushed over for their second tally of the game but the try for the extra point was no good. The score stood 12 to 7 with Vero leading at the end of the game.

In the opening minutes of the second quarter Leathers broke loose over his left tackle and ran to pay dirt from his own end of this farm road promises to be much worse than at present, he emphasized. The grade should be raised at least 3 feet to be safe for traffic and from future flood, he stated.

Both armed with ice picks they proceeded to go over each other. The result was that the woman is dead and the man is at the Belle Glade hospital seriously wounded in the chest. Overall Water Control Is Necessity For Food Production

Congressman Rogers, on his way to speak to the Rotary Club, will be followed by a visit to the Canal Point flooded areas, stopped in Belle Glade long enough to proclaim his views on "home missions" and foreign help.

"There are three things we can do," says the Congressman. "We can withdraw our armies from Europe, stop any food and money contributions, say to them 'We've spent billions on you and suffered casualties running into the hundreds of thousands and many more in injured.'—We're finished; Good-bye."

"We can start right now getting our armies ready for another European war, including the atomic bomb, with the attendant ghastly cost in men and supplies, or

"We can spend some money as a loan in machinery and food to allow them to rehabilitate themselves to the point of self support, under our direction, this is more humanitarian than the other two possibilities."

"Because of the flooded conditions of South Florida, where thousands of tons of foodstuffs are produced - and this includes beef, poultry, dairy products, citrus crops, citrus and vegetables - our ability to produce is hampered and greatly endangered. As a part of the necessary food for these countries, that need it, we must have all water control and conservation plan to prevent a recurrence of flood, should be pushed to a successful conclusion as rapidly as possible. Our 'home missions' - water control - should be, if not first, at least second, in the activation of plans for relief to European countries."

The Congressman's visit to Europe convinces him of the necessity of reducing agricultural countries, who are not communistic but who will of necessity become communistic if we don't do something for them.

"All of Europe will fall under the spell of communism, including England, unless something is done to save it."

Mr. Rogers will speak to the combined membership of the Lions and Rotary at Belle Glade on Friday at the Legion Hall.

OBSERVATION
and Comment
By John M. Gledhill

If there was ever a time when the Glades Farmer interests had a reason to feel glad and downhearted, it had been the past two months, when storms, played such havoc to well laden plants for cropping season. Such disasters have been experienced before but not extending over so long a period or of so many causes. But as the lands dry and the plantings are in, and those green chubs begin to top the ground, hope will again begin in the spring within the heart of the farmer and vegetable handlers. What will the prices be is the big question, but with the shortages and the late season of the fall season, they are to be in the "From the bar, to the car to the gates again."

Facts About Prices
Consumer protests against the high cost of food continue. Understandable as this is, it seems certain that the public at large is unaware of certain basic economic facts.

According to one authority, food bills are no greater today in proportion to gross per capita income than they were in the 1935-39 period. They have, in other words, simply followed the general trend.

Again, farm authorities have presented some very compelling evidence to the effect that allegedly swollen agricultural profits are largely non-existent. The enormous increases in farm operation costs—labor, materials, feed, taxes and everything else—have eaten up the increase in the farmer's gross income.

To blame packers and retailers for high prices is a common practice. It is also on utter fallacy. The meat packing industry, for instance, states that it earns less than one cent a day, after expenses, for providing meat for an average American family of four.

The retailer is in precisely the same position. The large food chain systems earn, as net profit, only a cent or two on each dollar of sales. The independent merchants, who must meet the competition, work on similar margins. Many stores have voluntarily sliced their already narrow profits to help price increases to the minimum. But they can't operate at a loss.

High prices are an economic consequence of the times. Neither producers, distributors, processors or retailers are responsible for them.

Mr. Dixon, Miss Ledbetter, and Mrs. Litchfield. William Warren, president conducted the meeting. Plans were made and discussed about the Halloween Carnival which will be held tonight. Whether the Juniors or Seniors would sponsor the food booth and divide the money as the Seniors are trying to put out an annual this year without aid. The Juniors will sponsor a raffle and tickets will be sold for twenty five cents. The dance following the carnival will be sponsored by the Seniors and an admission will be charged. It was suggested that the Juniors sell magazine subscriptions to make money for the Junior-Senior Prom. Mr. Hobson also suggested that they sponsor the dance following the Palokoke-Belle Glade game and charge admission. Another idea suggested by Mr. Hobson was to sponsor a colored football game on our football field after all our games had been played and also have the food booth that night. Hot Dogs, sandwiches, drinks, and coffee will be sold in the booth tonight. The following will serve in the booth

The Rams scored again in the second quarter with Layfield doing the honors and McDonald making the conversion upping the score to 20 to 0.
Okcechoke failed to cross the midfield stripe during the first half with most of the game being played between the 10 and 25 yard lines.
The locals failed to push over for a touchdown in the third quarter but two points were scored when Raulerson was tackled behind his own goal line in the closing minutes.

perio (Cunningham carried the ball from the 18 to the 3 for 15 yard gain but the play was called back. The Rams drew a 15 yard penalty for holding which placed the ball on the 22. Harrell carried the ball over from the 22 making the score 28 to 0 and the try for the conversion was no good.

The last touchdown of the game was set up when Kelso returned the ball to the 12 yard line after the Catfish kickoff. Two plays later, Layfield went over for six points making the score 34 to 0 and the extra point was good on a pass from Harrell to Conce.

The Catfish took to the air in the closing minutes of the game and advanced the ball from their 14 to the Rams 36 yard line. This was the only time the "Fish" crossed the midfield stripe.

Game Comments

Belle Glade football fans anxiously scanned the Saturday morning papers, to see the result of the Vero Beach and Pahokee games, for the Central Rams are yet to meet Vero, Dania and Pahokee on their schedule, and these are rated the top games of the latter part of the schedule. They got a bit of joy and a bit of sadness for Pahokee lost and Vero won. There is no question but what the Rams will need to play their best if they do not go down in one of these games with such formidable teams.

The scores of Friday night games resulted: Vero Beach, 13; Pahokee, 6; South Broward, 13; Dania, 19; Pahokee, 7; West Palm Beach, 20; Mainland of Daytona Beach, 6; Stuart, 12; Clewiston, 13; Delray, 13; West Palm Beach, 0; O. P. Pierce, 6; Lauderdale, 0.

What the score against Okcechoke might have been had Coach Cochran kept in the first string throughout the game is problematical, but conclusively much higher. The coach permitted most every player on his squad to get into some period of the game, and how they did enjoy it.

Both teams made the same number of first downs four to be specific. Peculiar, Okcechoke only once crossed the midfield stripe of the Rams, and that was at the end of the game, when Raulerson snagged a long pass.

Those ball carriers certainly did unwork some nifty field running, as displayed by McDonald, Miller, Williams, Cunningham, and Harrell.

The band and the majorettes staged a nifty and pretty midgame performance. John Robinson, the drum major, certainly lead his group in a professional manner.

Out manned and outskilled, yet, we take off our hats to that bunch of Okcechoke footballers, for the game they put up, and their pluckiness in their fight against that mauling they stacked up against. This school however is outlasted by teams of the strength of the Gulf conference.

Eggleston did another fine piece of announcing, his diction is good, his description detail excellent, and his voice can be heard in all portions of the field.

The Rams unworked too many fumbles when in position to score. They could be most costly by a tight game.

Even the best of college teams have "breather" games and the Clewiston and Okcechoke were the ones on the Rams' schedule. No more easy walkovers for the Rams the rest of the season.

Both Raulerson and McDonald showed their prowess in punting, they getting off some really great corner covering kick.

Upon that basis, the faculty recommended to the Belle Glade Lion's club that he be made the student member of the year. Franklin was received into the club as an honorary member, and during the school year will have opportunity of seeing and learning how civic clubs conduct their business. It is a coveted honor that any young man could be proud of possessing.

The educational program which the Lion's club proposes in Debating and Public Speaking, is a most worthy one, and the participants are going to be highly benefited. One who has the ability to stand on his feet and speak intelligently before an audience is fortunate indeed.

Municipal and town growth was amazing all along the route. This was a sign that citizens and money men had no inclination of thinking that our nation was going to the home-ones in the very near future.

The state of Florida is as heavy contributor in taxes to the national government, way up in the list. Everglades conditions in the Everglades has caused the Government willing and giving aid of most every type to bring about normal conditions in the distressed areas. So the we might go with our great productions, and again aid in feeding the world. What has been a serious temporary situation may be a benefit in the long run, for the need of a water control program has been advanced materially toward its attainment, aided by Federal money.

Disasters seem to be striking our land pretty hard this fall, with hurricane in Florida, fires in Maine, and damages of various nature in the western states. But our nation and the will to recover it is so great that in the end the losses will be absorbed.

Sky grazing is a popular occupation among Glades fairs.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam's a Matrimony Expert

Sam Atherly never intended to be a matrimony expert, but he hit the nail on the head the other day when he said:

"What marriage really needs is more open minds and a lot fewer open mouths."

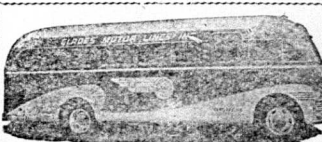

Sam may not think much of his misadventure of hats or her habit of serving watermelon and cream cheese salad, but he keeps his mouth shut (I wish he just ate it out the salad), And the misadventure critics Sam's affection for that worn-out chair before the fire.

And his mellow glass of beer and pipe at the end of a long day.

From where I sit, that prescription would apply to most human relationships. Criticism rarely comes anything but resentment. But an open mind—whether it's applied to a woman's choice of hats, or a husband's preference for a pipe and a moderate glass of beer or two—leads to the conclusion that there's right on both sides.

BETTER BE THE EARLY BIRD IN THE

Hunting Season

New regulations have been promulgated by the Game Commission governing hunting this fall, a shorter season and certain bans on Deer and Turkey. The early boys are going to get the pick of the limited supply.

SECURE HUNTING SUPPLIES

We still have ammunition of every type, but the shell situation is not so good for repeat orders, so load up while you can. We also have guns to complete the outfit, with other out door accessories.

FISHING TACKLE

Fishing is good out on the lake and in the streams, so better go prepared if the "bronze backs" get your baits or sever your lines. Extras come in awful handy at these times.

Take Notice Nimrods: Owing to the heavy decimation of Dove and Quail, the Commission is requesting that hunters go a bit easy on these birds, so that there can be seed left for next years crop of birds. Hunting and fishing licenses can be obtained at our store.
